YOU AND YOUR TEAM SCORED HIGHEST IN THE BELONGINGNESS & PLEASURE CATEGORY.

Continue being there for one another, this is your greatest asset! With an increasing need for people to reconnect, a team like yours is highly valued. Likeability, popularity and connectedness are signposts associated with you in your organization.

Your vulnerability makes you a colleague that is easy to confide in and relate to.

With a strong motivation to create more pleasure, you may often ask questions like: Can we plan a team building event? Are we doing enough to welcome new employees? How can we improve our customer experience?

Your promise to address or fulfill your colleagues' basic human needs makes you a welcome ray of sunshine in a company that moves at a fast pace, rain or shine.

DO:

- Continue co-creating with the camaraderie that is often missing in business
- Share your solid virtues with enthusiasm, positivity, and enjoyment
- Continue being playful and adding humor to your day

DON'T:

- Go overboard with practical jokes that may be viewed as inappropriate
- Over-compensate trying to please others
- Lose your own identity as you try to fit into the whole
